WHO IS JEFF CLAYBORN? CHECK OUT HIS MUSIC VIDEO AND HEAR THE JUST OUT “GOOD BAR ATTENDER”

The whispers in music circles about artist Jeff Clayborn just broke into shouts of enthusiasm with the release of his new music video, Good Bar Attender. The video features social media star, actor, and comedian Chad Prather as “Lucky.”

Known as JC in his broadening circle of friends and fans, Clayborn knows how to make great music and bring it to life—just as Jimmy Buffett did decades ago with his Margaritaville. Difficult to miss when he swaggers into a room, JC stands and walks like an athlete—a strong respected person who always looks to tomorrow.

Years on the pro music scene in LA and Nashville gave him experiences many would envy. Now this charismatic Texan is back home doing exactly what he loves—writing, recording, and performing music.

“Good Bar Attender pulls everyone to their feet. You can’t help but sing along and raise your glass to this fun country anthem.” – Chuck Ebert, Grammy award-winner and eight-time nominee

The video, produced and directed by Chuck Ebert, Grammy award-winner, eight-time nominee, and Executive Producer/President of Axon Entertainment, is now available on YouTube, www.goodbarattender.com, Facebook, and www.AxonEntertainment.com.
